The story of Robin Hood Village began with the dream of an artist named Don Beckman. On a visit to the Hood Canal, in the 1930's it was easy for Don to visualize the quaint little village in the woods. Here on this forested property with a salmon bearing creek and view of the snowcapped Olympic Mountains, Don Beckman built the Robin Hood Restaurant and the first four cottages in the Village in 1934.

In 1938, Mr. Beckman was hired by Walt Disney and was the set designer for the 1938 film version of Robin Hood, starring Errol Flynn. Today, two of the original cottages still remain and are the treasures of this charming little resort.

Our 10 Acre historic waterfront resort is the perfect place to relax and develop or recharge a relationship. Our guests enjoy our many individually decorated cottages, hot tubs, kayaking, trails, swings, and campfires. Walk on over for a unique dining experience!

Live Music Wednesdays, Fridays & Saturdays!
